After the welcome address, Resource person of the today's event Prof Wasim Akram spoke on the occasion and gave a detailed overview about the cyber crimes against financial Frauds day to day life. He talks about the different types of cyber crimes like identity theft, data theft, spreading. He also explained how the computers, mobile phones or smart devices which help us in executing our day to day activities can become a threat and may pave way to cyber frauds.

Smart devices and machines are those that can be programmed to carry out different functions. He also mentioned how significant it is to protect our personal data from sharing on various platforms. "The first step to protect a 'valuable' is to identify it. However unlike physical valuables like gold chain, cash or debit cards, it is very tough to recognise your 'digital valuables'. He also said that of all the factors that lies behind a cybercrime it is ultimately one's carelessness and ignorance that leads to such attacks.

A cyber thief or a threat actor basically tries to exploit the user's vulnerability to obtain access to digital valuables by studying sensitive passwords or by sending malicious links which the user is asked to click. This eventually leads to malware installation in one's smart device and thereby a hacker gets access to the valuables. He also talked about the various sections of Cyber crime like Section 425 i.e. Mischievous; Section 379 i.e. theft, Section 319 & 320 i.e. cheating, Section 292 i.e. sale of obscene material and so on.

One should invest in good software utilities, ensure operating system being used is reliable and in good condition, should never leave open the laptops/mobiles which have all personal data.
